Estill Springs News

[Special correspondence]

Estill Springs, Ky., July 11, 1910
"Do you know," drawled a malarious riddler and tired Floridian, "I think this spot should be called 'Porcelain Valley'." It is needless to state there was a full chorus of affirmatives in all the human gamut of emotions. It is—please bear real hard on the 'is'—peaceful valley.
For the past week, while Jupiter Pluvius has been trying to wash the inhabitants of the grand old Commonwealth off the face of the map, it is reserved for the Estillites alone to sit calmly back in the twenty-foot wide porches and observe the deluge. We felt on last Saturday as if we had just sighted land after a calm and uneventful voyage—with the verandas encircling the hotel for one deck.
The most enthusiastic guests here are these same Southerners, who by the way, are the same big, celery growers who were written up in last week's Saturday Evening Post. They came from Sandford, Florida, and the exceeding glory of the mountains, in sunshine and in rain, are a source of never-failing happiness.

We are, in fact, in a miniature Swiss hamlet, with the mountain streams swollen and flowing past the road at the edge of the grounds here in a rushing torrent. I don't know, I am sure, where or how the first owners found this exquisite location—with the sulphur and iron well bubbling up not forty feet from the end of the North veranda.

Like all old places there are a number of legends told of the Springs. One is, that at the grave of an Indian if one repeats a certain couplet (this Indian was said to be buried alive) and asks a question the answer will be plainly heard.

Last Sunday a young woman and a young man stood over the mound and solemnly repeated the following couplet—after a few preliminaries not in the old version:

"Indian, Indian buried alive
Tell me, shall I fail or thrive."
"You'll thrive alright if you pass your plate for chicken as often as you did for supper tonight," came a laughing voice from the other side of a big oak tree. "Burr Riddle's coop is fast!"—but he talked to the indignant backs of a pink dress and a white flannel suit—some people never know when to keep still.

The other legend is a snake story. There is—we hope never to personally verify this—it is said, a very old snake which comes each evening for a long draught of the life-giving sulphur water. The natives all agree that the water is the cause of his snakeship's remarkable longevity, and they emulate his example by walking down each day with their little brown jug. O no, his snakeship is supposed to make his visit at the hour when grave yards yawn.

We are going to have a big german on Saturday night and a large Richmond crowd will arrive Saturday morning for the event.

There will be couples from all around the Springs for the occasion. Mr. John W. Rodman and family and guest, Miss Lorraine Nourse, of Chicago, will later take the cottage and remain at Estill till after the tennis tournament. The Springs will be crowded and those who are interested in the game should reserve rooms.

The Floridians who are here till September are: Mr. and Mrs. Pace, Mr. and Mrs. Herndon, Mrs. Dickens and Mr. Land, and maids, of Sandford, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Collins and family, of Knoxville, will spend several weeks beginning this week.

Mrs. Harvey Riddell, of Denver, Colorado, and two children will arrive the middle of the month and remain, as usual, till October.

Mr. Ralston, of Middlesboro, spent the week end here.

Mrs. Henry Embury and family and a party of friends from Louisville will come this week for the summer.

The Female Louisville Orchestra voted the best yet and the day of the male orchestra for the Springs is over. Every member is good looking and they promise to make things lively during Tennis Week.

ELLA HUTCHINSON ELLWANGER.

Another Kentucky Club.

A communication from a friend brings us the information that there has been organized, in Wichita Falls, Texas, a Kentucky club with 65 members. The emblem of the club is a sheathed corkscrew and its motto: "As the sword, rusting in its scabbard, is an evidence of peace, so the sheathed corkscrew is typical of an advancing civilization." The officers are: Dr. Llewellyn Coons, of Fayette county, president; H. M. Snoddy, of Barren county, vice-president; W. O. Barriekman, of Jefferson county, secretary and H. A. Fairchild, of Floyd county, treasurer. Rev. J. Lapeley McKee, formerly pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in this city, is a member of the club and pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Wichita Falls. Dr. Wade H. Walker, formerly of this county, is also a member of the club.

The New Preacher.

Says an exchange: Recently the baseball editor of a metropolitan paper was sent to report the sermon of a new minister, as the religious editor was ill. This is the copy he turned in: "Quite a bunch was present last Sunday evening at the church owing to the presence of a new star and the box of boosters was anxious for a line on his work. Rev. — is certainly there with the goods and performed to the satisfaction of all present. Owing to the fact that this was his first appearance on the local grounds he was a little nervous the first inning. Encouraged by the coaches in the 'amen' corner, he let himself loose and had the game well in hand from then on. His New Jerusalem slow ball is a peach and when he turned loose on eternal punishment his speed was terrific. As this was his first workout it is too early to try to predict a future for him, but if he can keep up the gain he has started with it's him for the big league next season."

For Rent.

I desire to rent for the year 1911, my farm at Runyan Grove. Six or eight acres to go in tobacco, about the same in corn, balance in grass.

THE REAL LIGHT.

We fully realize that if a great business is to be built up in any line, it must be built in the clear light of day, with clean hands and honest methods, open and above board. No great success endures long on mistakes or misrepresentations.

When a merchant begins to feel that he must apologize for his wares by making them appear what they are not, when he begins to tincture his goods with the flavor of deception, then lookout!

We believe that if an article is worth selling at all, it is worth selling for what it is, and we do not want the kind of merchandise in our house that needs an apology or that we can not sell under its true label. We ask that you inspect our materials. We invite comparison both in quality and price. Our stocks are just now replenished and we were never able to better supply your wants with clean, fresh summer merchandise.

We have some specials in Wash Suits we would like for you to see. Also some specials in Ladies' Skirts and Waists.

We are well supplied with Up-to-date Suits for Men and Boys, and can save you money, as we do not want to carry these goods to another season.

Our Carpet Department was never so brimming full of bargains as now. The Spring is late and if you are needing a Carpet or Rug, we can save you money.

We bought a "close out" line of Trunks, and have on hands more Trunks than you ever saw in Richmond. We are giving our patrons the benefit of these low prices on this.
